Alert #14 Nevada Tax Commission Meeting

On Monday, April 7th, Norman Azevedo will be giving a half hour presentation to the State of Nevada Tax Commission. This is the highest administrative tax body in the state of Nevada.

Norm will be presenting our case of property tax inequities being applied by the Washoe County Tax Assessors Office to Incline Village and Crystal Bay property owners. He will focus on the assessor's usage of View Categories, Time Adjustments and Tear Downs Valuations as the primary methods for calculating property assessment values.

Norm Azevedo is presently schedule to speak at 1:00 PM. Location is 310 Galletti Way, in Reno. From Tahoe, take 431 over Mt. Rose to Reno, then take 395 North to Glendale Ave, go East about 1/2 mile, then turn left on Galletti Way. For a map to 310 Galletti Way, go to:

You are welcome to attend the Nevada Tax Commission meeting to hear Norm's presentation. Only three other people will give a short presentation on our behalf. The rest of the Incline Village and Crystal Bay property owners are asked to be quiet and professional during Norm's presentation.

For those of you who are unable to attend, but would like to see Norm's Power Point Presentation, I will post his presentation on our web site at the end of Monday. If you would like to see the other presentations Norm has given, go to:
